CELEBRATED TOO SOON

While Spain Rejoiced Over Victory, Her Soldiers Met Defeat

Madrid, Oct. 2.—Madrid was illuminated last night in celebration of the success of the Spanish arms in Africa; which were crowned by the occupation of Mount Guruga, the Moorish stronghold. Gen. Marina's skillfully planned operations are the subject of much praise. After the reverse of July 27 and the subsequent losses suffered, Gen. Marina decided it would be a useless waste of life to proceed on a small scale. Accordingly he withdrew his advanced posts and waited until he had concentrated 60,000 men and sixty-eight cannons, which were divided into two columns on Sept. 20. Both were successful. The Spanish forces scaled the sides of the mountain and planted the Spanish flag on its summit. What has become of the main body of the Moors is not clear from the official dispatches published here.

They Found Them

Mellila, Morocco, Oct. 2.—The Spanish force from Zeluán reconnoitering in the direction of Zokel Jemil, encountered the Moors, and met with a serious reverse.

General Diaz Vicario and three officers and fourteen men were killed and 182 men were wounded.

Prof. Henry Rickards, principal of the Bellevue school, was in town today. He formerly resided in Candier, being one of its pioneer settlers and moved there in the early seventies. He had just come out of a school room in Missouri, broken down in health and retired in Florida by spending 14 years in the woods surveying. After the big freeze he again took up teaching, moving to Hillsborough county, and he has been at it ever since. He is one of the best equipped and most successful teachers in the state and is pleased with his school and the people of Bellevue. Prof. Rickards after graduating from a Missouri college, took to teaching in 1868 and has made it a profession.

FIRE AT ROBERT CONNOR'S

A fire alarm was turned in at 12:45 this afternoon by telephone from Mr.
Robert Connor's home, two miles south of town. The fire department got word that the fire was near Mrs.
M. C. Loney's, on South second street and went to that place. They then learned of the mistake and knowing it was far beyond their reach or the ability of the horses to make at any speed, returned to the station.

Mr. Carroll's little Maxwell run-about was standing in front of the Star office and Mr. Lewis Yonce took Chief Hamp Chambers and five of his firemen with the two hand extinguishers out to the fire, reaching there in a few minutes, though the car was load-d down with all the men who could stick on. They found Mr.
Lucky with Tompkins & Cobb's car and several men, who had received word direct, all ready and on the scene. They were cutting into the roof when the firemen arrived. The opening was enlarged and the firemen applied the hand extinguishers and the fire was out in a few minutes.

The fire had caught from the kitchen fire, between the roof and the ceiling and was very hard to get at. Mr.
Connor was not at home, having left this morning for Atlanta. The home would certainly have been destroyed together with practically everything in it, but for the telephone and the quick response of the automobiles.

THE JUDGMENT

With the speed of the wind I travel, when blown by the hurricane;
And the city blocks, I pass them, like palings by the lane;

With the gasoline engine speeded, and the muffler open wide, I'm as happy and contented as a bridegroom with his bride.

I take in all the ball games; run all the races, too.

I'm a lawyer by profession, and a judge and justice, too.

I take the girls out riding; I'm the whole world envied by.

Because they see me pass them with a speed they dare not try.

But lo! some one is waving; the road must be unsmooth.

So I throw the brake on the engine, and the clutch to neutral move.

But hark! hush! Am I dreaming? Is the voice I hear now true?

"The measure ye oft have measured shall be meted unto you."

Are the men I see policemen? How dare they trouble me?

The judge of a court and a lawyer; such impudence to me!

And then to my senses dawning, from my stupid dream I wake,

And down at the mayor's office from my purse five dollars shake.

Respectfully dedicated to Judge Bell October 1, 1909, by a friend.

BOUGHT THE THEATER SEATS

The building committee of Marion-Dunn Lodge bought the seats this morning for the Temple Theater. The committee selected a splendid seat, like those in the Dixieland Theater in Jacksonville. 452 were purchased for the main floor and 199 for the gallery.
The seats for the boxes will be a different kind and have not been bought yet.

AIR DOME ATTRACTIONS

"The Curse of Cocaine," a weirdly interesting subject, and "Oliver Twist," Dickens' best story, will be illustrated at the Air Dome this evening, and are too good to be missed.

Mr. Tucker will have Jacksonville all next week. The first three nights the stage will be occupied by Reggie Futch, a black face comedian who has made a great hit with Barlow's Minstrels. Mr. Futch appeared before an Ocala audience several years ago when the Ocala Rifles gave a minstrel performance, and was conceded to be one of the best.

The last three nights of the week Mr. Shadertich, another noted artist, will appear. You are bound to be cured of dyspepsia and grog if you attend the Air Dome next week.

NOVEL CAMPAIGN PROPOSITION

Mr. C. Y. Miller of Leroy, who was a candidate last term for the office of sheriff of Marion county, will be a candidate again when this office is to be filled. Mr. Miller says any other candidate will have to get mighty busy to beat his plan. He will deposit his check for $2,500 made payable to the churches of the county, when he enters the race, to be paid if he wins.
On the first day of January, each and every year thereafter, as long as he holds the office, he will repeat the dose, giving another $2,500 to the churches of the county, which he estimates will be the net proceeds of the office over expenses. He only wants the glory, he says, as he has plenty to live on. Who can beat this for campaign finesse.

Mr. Will Dale, of Gainesville, with the Dutton Phosphate Co., was in the city yesterday. Will was to live in Ocala and was bookkeeper for the Ford & Hiller Co., phosphate miners, and is said to have kept the nearest set of books in the state. When Messrs. Ford & Hiller sold their interests to the Dutton company, Will went with the deal and has shown himself so capable and trustworthy, that now he is a partner in the business. He deserves it.

Mr. John R. Dewey returned yesterday from a short visit to Jacksonville.
He said while Jacksonville was the metropolis and the greatest city in the commonwealth and destined to greater growth and commercial importance, at present everything there was on the quiet. Speaking of travel, he said there was one continual procession going down the east coast and he saw a train of eleven cars pull out the other morning with every seat filled and every berth in a Pullman taken.

Henry Livingston tells with exciting garnishments how a Martel man did him up the other day, when Henry suggested that it would be a good and fair thing for him to liquidate that premium on a life insurance policy, which Henry had advanced and Nelson agreed to pay. Nelson became angry, abused Henry and finally assaulted him. The case was brought before Judge Bell
